

Interfacing Chemistry with Patents

An Introduction to Patents for Chemists & Chemical Engineers

Given by Andrea Brewster & Carol Greaves, Greaves Brewster LLP

20 - 21 March 2012

The Fira Palace Hotel, Barcelona, Spain

“Good handout, useful for future reference.
Very good course, well presented. The workshops, quiz questions and interactive parts were useful.”

PROFESSIONAL DEVELOPMENT TRAINING

Scientific Update provides training courses for industrial chemists and chemical engineers in chemical development and scale-up and many other specialist topics in organic and process chemistry.

Our short intensive training courses enable scientists to learn about highly relevant topics, to broaden their knowledge and to keep abreast of new science, new technology and new techniques.

Interfacing Chemistry with Patents

20 - 21 March 2012

The Fira Palace Hotel, Barcelona, Spain

Fee & General Information

£1075.00

Includes lunch & refreshments, course dinner and comprehensive course manual.

The course begins with registration at 8.15am on Tuesday 20 March and ends at approximately 4.00pm on Wednesday 21 March.

Introduction

This course is a lively introduction to how the patent system works and the nature and scope of the rights a patent gives, with an emphasis on chemical inventions. It covers patentability, patent procedures, infringement, the commercial exploitation of patents, the interpretation of patent literature and the role of the inventor. There are also chemically oriented workshops aimed at exploring and reinforcing the basic course teachings.

Course Tutors

Andrea Brewster

Chartered Patent Attorney, European Patent Attorney.

During her career, Andrea has handled UK, European, PCT and foreign patent work, for a range of clients both large and small. She offers clients strategic advice on the management of their patent portfolios. She specialises in work in the fields of cosmetic, pharmaceutical, agricultural and petrochemical products and has particular experience of supercritical fluid-based processing. Andrea has lectured to visiting Japanese attorneys on aspects of European patent law, and conducted tutorials for trainees. Andrea is now a member of the Council of the Chartered Institute of Patent Attorneys.

Carol Greaves

Chartered Patent Attorney, European Patent Attorney.

Since qualifying Carol has worked in industry, private practice and in a Government Department. Her work includes litigation work both in the UK and elsewhere in Europe, oppositions in Europe and filing and prosecuting patent applications in many overseas countries. The technical areas in which she specialises include biotechnology and genetic engineering, immunology and chemistry, in particular in the pharmaceutical and agrochemical fields. Carol has also been responsible for training several patent attorneys, and given numerous tutorials for CIPA and client organisations.

Andrea and Carol first delivered this, now highly successful course for Scientific Update in 2002. They annually review and modify it, tailoring the course contents to the needs of the delegates.
